CONFERENCE MANAGEMENT

Unfortunately, too many diabetic patients suffer the same fate.

More than 100,000 diabetic patients had an amputation in 2007.¹ For positive healing outcomes, consider V.A.C.[®] Therapy.

In two multicenter RCTs¹ on patients with diabetic foot wounds, V.A.C.[®] Therapy was associated with a shorter time to wound closure and fewer amputations compared to AMWT.^{*} Published in *Diabetes Care*² and Lancet,³ results^{} were as follows: Wound closure: V.A.C.[®] Therapy 96 days vs. >112^{} days AMWT²; V.A.C.[®] Therapy 56 days vs. 77 days AMWT.³ Fewer amputations: V.A.C.[®] Therapy 4.1% vs. 10.2% AMWT²; V.A.C.[®] Therapy 3% vs. 11% AMWT.³ To learn more visit www.HelpHealDFUs.com.

[†]RCT defined as Randomized Controlled Trial.

^{*}AMWT defined as advanced moist wound therapy. ^{}For both studies, data calculated at the end of the 112-day active treatment phase.

^{}Median time for advanced moist wound therapy was not achieved within the 112-day active treatment phase.

2010 EDWARD JAMES OLMOS AWARD FOR ADVOCACY IN AMPUTATION PREVENTION

WARREN S. JOSEPH, DPM

PHILADELPHIA, PA, USA

Dr. Joseph is associated with Roxborough Memorial Hospital, Philadelphia, and is podiatric consultant with the Veterans Administration Medical Center, Coatesville, PA. He is the editor of the Journal of the American Podiatric Medical Association. His current academic appointments include adjunct clinical professor at Temple University School of Podiatric Medicine.

"Articulate and irrefutable, even without a necktie, Warren Joseph is not just a world-class educator, writer and lecturer, and the foremost podiatric expert on infectious disease and diabetic foot infections, he also is arguably the most irrefutable advocate for the podiatric profession," said Dr. Armstrong. "When people say 'podiatric medicine thought leader' one of the first names to come to mind is always Warren Joseph," Dr. Armstrong said.

During his tenure as editor of the Journal of the American Podiatric Medical Association, JAPMA has become the most highly regarded and influential source of podiatric medical information. He has written dozens of peer-reviewed articles, monographs and book chapters in leading professional publications and is the author of the authoritative text, Handbook of Lower Extremity Infections, recently published in its third edition.

Warren S. Joseph received his bachelor's degree in biology from the University of Pennsylvania, and his Doctor of Podiatric Medicine degree magna cum laude from the William M. Scholl College of Podiatric Medicine in Chicago. He completed his residency program in podiatric medicine and surgery in 1984 at St. Joseph's Hospital in Philadelphia. Following his residency program, Warren did a one-year fellowship in infectious diseases at Hahnemann University School of Medicine. He is board certified by the American Board of Podiatric Orthopedics & Primary Podiatric Medicine. He was the first podiatrist to be named a Fellow in the Infectious Diseases Society of America.

It is the policy of Valley Presbyterian Hospital (VPH), International Conference Management (ICM), and Diabetic Foot Global Conference (DFCon) to ensure balance, independence, objectivity, and scientific rigor in all its individually sponsored or joint-sponsored educational programs. All faculty participating in any VPH or ICM sponsored programs are expected to disclose to the program audience any real or apparent conflict(s) of interest that may have a direct bearing on the subject matter of the continuing education program. This pertains to relationships with pharmaceutical companies, biomedical device manufacturers, or other corporations whose products or services are related to health care. The intent of this policy is not to prevent a speaker with a potential conflict of interest from making a presentation. Potential conflict has been identified and resolved prior to the program by the accredited providers.

ACCREDITATION

ACCREDITATION: This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Institute for Medical Quality and the California Medical Association's CME Accreditation Standards (IMQ/CMA) through the Joint Sponsorship of Valley Presbyterian Hospital and International Conference Management. Valley Presbyterian Hospital is accredited by the Institute for Medical Quality/California Medical Association (IMQ/CMA) to provide continuing medical education for physicians. Valley Presbyterian Hospital takes responsibility for the content, quality and scientific integrity of this CME activity. Valley Presbyterian Hospital designates this educational activity for a maximum of 20.2 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)TM. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity. This credit may also be applied to the CMA Certification in Continuing Medical Education. The American Medical Association has determined that physicians not licensed in the US who participate in this CME activity are eligible for AMA PRA category I credit.

Valley Presbyterian Hospital is accredited by the California Board of Registered Nursing, Provider Number 12494. Nurses will be awarded 20.2 contact hours for successfully completing the program.

International Conference Management, Inc. is approved by the Council on Podiatric Medical Education as a sponsor of continuing medical education in podiatric medicine. International Conference Management, Inc. in joint sponsorship with Valley Presbyterian Hospital has approved this conference for a maximum of 20.2 continuing medical education contact hours of CPME credit.

ADVISORY: Certificates of Attendance for CMEs and Contact hours are available for you to print online during and after this conference. Attendees can update or edit their Attendance Checklist or CME Certificate through April 10, 2010. After that time, no further changes can be made in the forms. Certificates can be printed for a period of two years.

COMMERCIAL FUNDING AND FINANCIAL SUPPORT: This conference is being funded by educational grants and commercial support from commercial organizations. A complete list of supporters and faculty disclosures is published in this program notebook.

EXHIBITS: Several medical device, service and pharmaceutical companies will display their products in the Grand Ballroom, in a space separate from the accredited educational activities, in accordance with commercial support guidelines.

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, if you have any special requirements please contact us.

HOW TO PRINT YOUR OWN CME CERTIFICATE

New this year CME certificates for DFCon will be available only online. It's easy to print your own CME certificate. You can do it at the conference or later, at your home or office.

1. Log on to the DFCon CME site www.DFCon.com

AT THE DF CONFERENCE: Go to the Registration Area on the Mezzanine Level (2nd Floor). Using one of the computers, enter your LAST NAME as your User Name. Then enter your Password, which is the ID NUMBER printed on your conference name badge just above the bar code.

AT HOME/OFFICE: Immediately after the conference, you will receive an email with a link to the CME site and your ID Number. Click on the link or paste it into your browser. Log in with your last name and ID Number.

2. Open the Attendance Checklist (sample below). Then click on the box beside each education session you attended. The form automatically totals your CME/Contact hours, up to a maximum of 20.2 hours. Click the submit button when done.

Note: You can update or edit your Attendance Checklist through April 10, 2010. After that time, no further changes can be made in the form.

3. Open the CME Certificate and print it.

Note: You can print your certificate as many times as you like for a period of two years. Be sure to keep the link and login number in order to do so.
